The EcoFans visit the Ancient Agora and the Stoa of Attalos

The EcoFans will complete their activities for 2009-2010 with a visit to the Ancient Agora and the Stoa of Attalos. In cooperation with the American Archaeological School we will visit the archaeological site and the excavation area on Saturday May 29th at 11:00 a.m. We will walk around the Ancient Agora to observe and record the perfect balance between humans and nature in the heart of the city. The Ancient Agora has been part of our neighborhood from antiquity until today.

We are looking forward to seeing you there, children and parents, for a fun and educational trip into our history, culture and ecology, exploring our city as we have done so many times this year.
